

Who is Helios?

A team of forward-deployed AI engineers who build and ship, not advise from the sidelines. We integrate systems, train your team to run them, and build proprietary tools when off-the-shelf doesn't cut it. Our focus is agentic marketing and sales: automating the repetitive work while improving conversion, connecting your stack, and surfacing the intelligence buried in your data.

Who we work with

(and their priority if we're selling directly to them)

- CEO/Founder: systems that remove the bottleneck slowing growth, with out hiring a team to run it.
- Marketing/Growth Team Members: systems that scale efforts with out more headcount or agency fees.
- Operators/COO: automation that replaces manual, repeatable busywork with a system.
- Technical Lead (Or any team member with a technical/CS background): systems integration, tech stack modernization, upskilling, custom agents.

Differentiators

- Builders, not advisors. Most agencies sell you a strategy deck. Most AI consultants sell you a proof-of-concept that never ships. We do both the strategy and the engineering - we were among the first teams building AI content systems at scale since October of 2025, and we've shipped several full-stack products from concept to production, not prototypes.
- Full-stack visual AI expertise. Image generation, video generation, and generative HTML-first design aren't bolt-ons for us. We've run them in production at scale for past clients, which means we know where they break and how to make them reliable, not just how to demo them.

Outcomes we help clients achieve

- Cut labor and software spend by replacing manual workflows and stacked subscriptions with owned systems.
- Give technical leads an AI-Forward, integrated stack instead of duct-taped tools and manual handoffs.
- Scale outreach and content production without scaling headcount or agency retainers.
- Remove operational bottlenecks through systems integration, freeing your team to work on growth instead of repetitive tasks.
